Yes, the top row is I, J, L, O, not ~~I, L, J, O~~. The J and L tetrominoes are named after their shape when resting on the side of length 2. The picture above shows them resting on the side of length 3, which is the orientation used by Tetris Worlds for each J, L, or T tetromino as it first enters the playfield.
